SUNDAY 1 NOVEMBER 2020

Fr Matthew's Weekly Video Message

Good morning from my home to yours, peace be with you.

This coming week, we celebrate the feast of All Saints on Sunday and All Souls on Monday. All Saints is a wonderful feast celebrating the Saints of the Church, but also, I would like to acknowledge the many living Saints that are in our communities. I would like to particularly remember and acknowledge the living Saints who care for, especially in hospitals, caring for people who are frail and elderly, people who are sick and in need of help: The nurses, the doctors, the staff of our hospitals and health care professionals. They have been under extraordinary pressure. They have been doing extraordinary things, looking after, and caring, for so many. Here in our region of the Capricorn Coast we've been fortunate that we haven't had that many cases of Covid or flu and many other things that are part of our world, but still they have been caring and looking after our community.

I would also like to acknowledge those carers who live at home. Those ones that look after a spouse, a brother or sister or family member, somebody who is looking after an elderly parent or loved one.

There are so many living Saints who are doing extraordinary things.

Saints aren't perfect people, but they are people who do ordinary things with extraordinary care and love and sacrifice. In many ways they give so much looking after many in our community.

Thank you to those living Saints and we look to the model of the Saints who have gone before us as ways of giving thanks to God for the blessings and gift of life.

God Bless from my home to yours and peace be with you.

Fr Matthew
